

Claydata's Document Management Package

- An integrated patient file management system - make the change to a paperless office with an easy-to-use electronic file management structure
- Get access anywhere - use any device whether local or online with PuttyBox
- Gain optimal connection speeds with intranet-based infrastructure
- Securely and safely share files - mitigate your legal liabilities when you share sensitive medical information

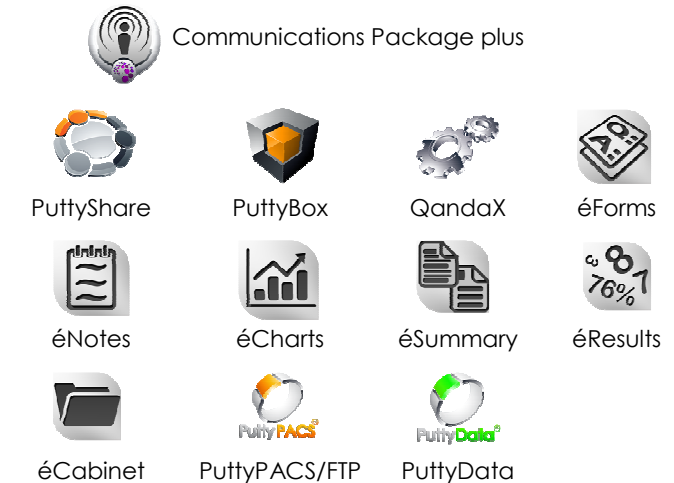

Package description

Building on the connectivity of the Communications Package, Claydata's Document Management Package adds superior document management capabilities to keep your organisation on track in and out of the office.

Two additional platforms, PuttyShare and PuttyBox, provide you with a number of novel ways to securely share files. A suite of complementary applications facilitate report generation, document storage, and customisable file management systems.

Alongside these products, you can take advantage of two Claydata gateways, PuttyData and PuttyPACS/FTP, further extending your document management and sharing capabilities.
